

A modern interior design scene featuring a lounge area. On the left is a tall, dark wood panel with a vertical grain. In the center, a seating area includes three grey armchairs with black legs, a small white round coffee table, and a circular rug with a blue and black pattern. Above the seating area, five yellow, cone-shaped pendant lights hang from the ceiling. The floor is made of light-colored wood in a herringbone pattern. On the right, a dark, polished stone wall with white veining is visible. The background wall is a light, textured grey. The overall lighting is soft and modern.
